Board Approves New Bleachers For Football Field

New Manager At Ill. Bell In Antioch

Illinois Bell Telephone Company has named Rielhard C. Miller, formerly assistant manager of its Elmhurst office, as manager of the Antioch office. He succeeds Donald L. Hood, who has been transferred as staff engineer to the company's business research department in Chicago.

Miller, who presently lives at 1025 Stockton Avenue in Des Plaines, is planning to move to the Antioch area. Educated in Chicago and Phoenix, Arizona, he joined Illinois Bell in 1950. One of his first assignments was in the Plant department, maintaining telephone equipment. In 1955 he joined the Phoenix office of another Bell System company, Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph, as an installer-repairman. He was later promoted to salesman. The Board of Education of Antioch Community High School dealt with several maintenance matters, employing teachers for the '63-'64 school year and a tentative budget for the next year at its regular meeting at the school on Wednesday night, June 19.

Bids were opened on several supply items. The bid of the Badger Co. in Kenosha, representative of the Bowman Co., was accepted for ice cream for the school cafeteria. The low bid of $575 for 1/3 quart of milk, from Beatrice Foods, with plants in Mundelein and Evanston, was accepted for milk.

The building and grounds committee, with Milburn Cain as chairman, had recommended the purchase of new bleachers for the football field. The bid of $8,019.00 of the Standard Bleachers Division of Three Rivers, Mich., was accepted. The new bleachers will be on the home side of the field and will seat about 900 people. They will be permanent bleachers, anchored in concrete, replacing the old portable ones.

The budget committee, headed by Dr. Richard Ripley, presented a tentative budget for the board's consideration. The budget was accepted by the board, and will be published in the Antioch News of July 18. On August 21 there will be a public hearing on the budget. From the time of publication until the hearing, the budget may be reviewed by the public at the high school.

The resignation of Mrs. Gladys Brooks as Dean of Girls and Health was accepted by the board. Mrs. Brooks and her family are moving to High Point, North Carolina.

Miss Elizabeth Kitchell was hired to take Mrs. Brooks' place. Miss Kitchell has several years of teaching experience and wide experience with Girl Scout groups, YWCA, etc. Her last position was as City Director of Detroit in charge of Playgrounds, etc.

Mr. Lee Mieure was hired to teach mathematics and serve as part time guidance counselor. He has ten years experience as a teacher and has recently been at the University of Illinois working for his Master's degree.

Mr. Richard Weinberg was employed as a Guidance Counselor and English teacher. He has been teaching at Galesburg High School.

The board also employed a custodian, B. W. Schaeffer, a retired Navy man living in Trebor.

The board voted to repair the roofs of the 1915, 1927 and 1952 additions to the school. The board has been applying a program of roof maintenance each summer, repairing a different portion each year.

He was also active in the recent formation of the Chamber of Commerce in Antioch, acting as moderator during the organization meetings that preceded formation of the Chamber.

Richard Miller

In December, 1959, Miller re-joined Illinois Bell in its Oak Park sales office and then was assigned to assistant manager in Elmhurst in March, 1962.

Miller, an avid fisherman, says his entire family shares his enthusiasm for angling and he hopes to spend many of his off-hours in this endeavor. He also enjoys reading and hunting.

Miller has a wife, Jeanette, and two sons, Richard, 7, and Robert 5.

Hood, who has nine years of service with Illinois Bell, came to Antioch as manager in 1959. Previously he served as a salesman in the company's Rockford office and, after assignment to a management training program in Rockford, became assistant manager in Skokie in 1956. While in Antioch, he was a member of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce, Antioch Lions Club and the Fox Lake Chamber of Commerce.

Chamber To Meet July 1

The newly organized Chamber of Commerce will hold its first official general meeting Monday evening, July 1st, at Lorenz's Smart Country House, it was announced this week. All merchants and business people of Antioch are urged to attend.

A report on the progress of the board of directors will be given and several items are on the agenda calling for a vote. One of the most important items on the agenda will be the proposed rate schedule for membership dues. "Without money in the till, we can't operate," an official of the organization said. The board hopes to hire an executive secretary, at least on a part-time basis, as soon as possible.

Since its re-organization the chamber has successfully completed their first sales promotion, i.e., the "77"

shopping bag sale of a few weeks ago, and is planning to co-operate with the Fire Department in the coming celebra-

In tune with the firemen's 50th anniversary many merchants are planning to decorate their windows in an appropriate motif. Ribbons commemorating the affair are being prepared and will be worn by merchants and their staffs during the celebra-

The July 1st dinner meeting is set for 7 p.m. and officials are hopeful of a large turnout.

Hunt Suspects In G. Diamond Robbery

The sheriff's office is looking for two men who they believe may have taken part in the $18,000 robbery of the George Diamond Steakhouse at Route 59 and Grass Lake Road last weekend.

Four hooded gunmen, wearing gloves, herded Manager Harold Clunie; his wife, his son, and three employees into a walk-in cooler and ransacked the place.

They first forced Mrs. Clunie to open the safe, which contained about $17,000 in cash, according to sheriff's deputies. The men also took sweaters, golf equipment, and jewelry and cash from the victims.

The Clunies and the three employees managed to bathe their way out of the cooler at about 7 a.m., by using a bar they found. It is reported that someone tried to enter the Antioch Bowl that night, about a half-hour before the robbery at Diamond's took place. An employee who sleeps in the place heard the men trying to force open the door and turned on lights in the building, evidently frightening them away.

Register Tots For Kindergarten Now

Clowns, Treats For Kids, Refreshments,

All-Antioch-and-much-of-the surrounding-area will turn out to honor the Antioch Fire Department on its 50th Anniversary on Saturday, June 29, 1963.

A huge parade will start off a round of festivities that will extend into the night.

59, turn right on 59 and proceed to Hillside, north on Hillside to Orchard and then to the parking area.

Sixteen fire departments will take part in the parade, consisting of a horse-drawn covered wagon. The wagon will have two trucks in the parade: the Antioch Grade School Band, the Great Lakes Naval Band, Drum Corps, Rifle Team and Waves, the 45th Artillery Brigade Drum & Bugle Corps; the Lake County Voluteer No. 604 40 & 8 engine; Color Guards from the Antioch Legion Post 748, Antioch VFW, and Lake Villa VFW; the High School Girls Color Guard; a pony-drawn coach from the R & S Ranch, and saddle horses will be some of the units joining the parade.

The parade will only be the beginning of a full day of festivity. Schuster and conductor William H. Dowder and William Marshall. Free tickets for the rides will be given to youngsters under 13 years of age by Legionnaires from Antioch American Legion Post No. 748.

Innumerable cars carrying dignitaries will take part in honoring the firemen. An Army staff car, a Red Cross staff car, the 1962 Fire Department Queen, Village officials, Senator Robert McClory, are a few joining in the celebration.

The Fire Dept. is not selling any gadgets on this anniversary. Plastic hats, gum and candy are being given to children, and tickets to the Firemen's Dance, in the evening, will be available. Several local organizations are selling refreshments and serving food. Any other merchandising will be commercial.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Festival are Arnold Schulmeister, Don Lubkeman, Harold Wilson, Gerry Richter, Denny Volling, Bob Lindquist and Joe Allen. Joe Allen is leaving July 1 for a new job in Iowa.

The deadline for entries is midnight, June 30. Miss Betty Amendola, Miss Lake Region Jaycee of 1962, will reign as queen of the Antioch Festival.

Entrants in the contest will be judged on talent, poise, beauty and personality. The judging will take place at the Antioch Township High School auditorium. Girls will appear in bathing suits, then formal, then perform their particular talent.

The new chairman of the Beauty Pageant, Bob Lindquist, can be reached at 395-2087. The Queen will be crowned at the village parking lot on Sunday night. The American Legion carnival will be running at the same time.

The two stations now in use in the county, at Barrington and Waukegan, will discontinue their operations at the close of the working day Friday.

Some motorists drive in a fog even on bright sunny days. The fast and congested pace of today's traffic requires total driving concentration, says the Institute for Safer Living. Don't "fog up" your driving by concentrating on other matters.

Don't forget your new Zip Code for Antioch—60002.

The Zip Code is used to speed mail delivery. Put it on your return address in this manner:

Roy I. Kufalk, Postmaster,
405 Orchard St.
Antioch, Ill. 60002.

Of course, we don't recommend you use Roy's name or address to speed up your mail. Substitute your own.

EDITORIAL

Congratulations, Firemen!

Every little boy, at some time in his life, wants to be a fireman. Probably every little girl, too, would gladly trade her femininity, at some time, for just one ride on that glamorous brilliantly red truck that screams excitingly down the street with heroic men clinging to the seps.

Two hundred and twelve little boys have grown up to realize their dream in the Antioch Fire Department since the day it started. It wasn't quite so glamorous then. No truck, no siren, no uniform. But they did their best, with what they had, and they planted the seed that grew into our present fire department, one that the town of Antioch can point to with pride.

It isn't the glamour of the fire truck and siren that's made our fire department a proud thing. It's hours and days and years of dirty, sweaty work, on days when the temperature stood in the nineties, and bitter below-zero cold. Work and inconvenience and sacrifice of personal pleasure by dozens and dozens of men down through the years.

Not too many weeks ago, we remember seeing a number of the men of the fire department come trooping into the Antioch Bowl, on a day when the thermometer stood in the nineties, after working in the broiling sun to extinguish a fire some careless person started in the fill in the Bowl's parking lot. Most of the men were filthy, hot—and cheerful. It wasn't a dramatic fire, and certainly no one was going to get any recognition or praise for their work. Probably most of them had been dragged away from dinner, a ball game, or some pleasant pursuit by the screams of the siren. They answered the call for help, because that's the discipline of the fire department—every call MUST be answered.

On this Fiftieth Anniversary of the Antioch Fire Department, we salute and thank every one of the 212 men who have served through those fifty years. We thank the wives and mothers, too, who have put up with the inconvenience and the worry. The men who make up the department in this anniversary year have gone to a lot of work to honor the men who went before them, and the department they serve. We congratulate them. We know they have the personal satisfaction of rendering an important service to their fellow men, and the gratitude of everyone who lives within the district they serve.

Say It Where It Counts

We've heard complaints from residents on Victoria St. lately about the extremely poor job of paving done by Kennedy Construction in repairing that street. Residents expressed the opinion that the job should not be paid for until a proper job is done.

The Kennedy Co. has not been paid in full as yet. Separate jobs are not paid for as such, so the specific payment for this job won't come up at a board meeting.

We contacted a village board member to inquire about this matter. He agreed that the job was a poor one, and that Kennedy Co. should probably have to repair it before being paid. However, as he pointed out, he is only one board member. In his opinion, dissatisfied residents of Victoria St. should attend the next board meeting and make their dissatisfaction known. This is the only way they can be sure action will be taken.

We can't help but agree with the board members if the most directly affected residents don't feel it's worth while to spend one-half hour once a month in attending a board meeting, standing up and saying "I think the paving job on Victoria St. is a poor one and should be repaired", he can hardly expect the village board to take action.

Say it where it will do some good. From the board meetings we've attended, we believe you will be listened to with courtesy and attention given to your complaint.

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU DURKIN

The price of progress sometimes comes high and the price isn't always paid in the coin of the realm.

An added cost for the new county building in Waukegan is the beautiful, old shade trees that have been removed to make room for the new complex.

For many people the elimination of the trees is a harder cost to bear than the millions of dollars the project will ultimately cost whether the cost be reckoned as tax dollars, fees earned by fee-earning offices; or rents paid by county departments and other political subdivisions to the county building commission.

The architect's model of the completed project and the brochures which explained the building in detail show new trees in place around the finished building, but they appear more decorative than shady.

The sidewalk superintendents will have some difficulty keeping an eye on the project because of a high fence which has been placed around the construction site, but courthouse employees on the upper floors on the north side of the building will have a clear view of the progress being made.

Don't forget that July 1 is the deadline for making the first installment payment on your real estate taxes and for paying personal property taxes.

And while you are trying to make up your mind whether or not to pay the unpopular personal property tax consider for a few minutes what your real estate tax would be without the personal property tax.

Public utilities in Lake County alone pay several millions of dollars in personal property taxes for their transmission lines and the equipment in their generating plants and exchanges.

Your industries, stores, and offices pay personal property taxes on their inventories and equipment.

It is probably safe to assume that the industries and business houses hold back a little on their assets even as you and I, but they still carry a very substantial part of the personal property tax burden.

Eliminate the personal property tax paid by these companies and the burden on real estate would be truly confiscatory unless a replacement tax is levied.

If a new tax is developed we had better make sure the personal property tax is eliminated first.

Charles Percy, youthful camera company executive who is being given strong consideration as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, paid a visit to Springfield last week and spurred discussion of his possible candidacy.

The personable executive created quite a stir among the legislators, but the interest served to underline one of his chief drawbacks.

While the legislators gathered around to meet Percy it was more in the nature of meeting a celebrity or a stop-over visitor, whereas Secretary of State Charles Carpenter, Percy's probable opponent, can move through the General Assembly and hail the representatives and senators on a first name basis.

Carpenter has a tremendous backlog of support gained during his years as a legislator and as Secretary of State, a backlog that Percy will find hard to overcome if he should become a candidate.

The Illinois General Assembly closes up shop this weekend, but it will probably be several weeks before the final results of its six months of activity can be assessed.

With the confusion of the final week of work brought on by amendments to many of the bills being processed supporters of some legislation may find themselves voting against their own bills.

Along The Way

ANNIE MAE

With a running start, we dive headlong into a whirlpool of summer festivities this week. First we have polished up our badges and bolo ties, and will join the Antioch Volunteer Fire Department in celebrating their Golden Anniversary on Saturday, June 29. After we catch our breath (and a little sleep) we will all be ready to join in the fun at the Jay Cee's Summer Festival on July 3. By the looks of things, however, the old fashioned Fourth of July seems to have been abandoned. Whatever happened to that group of Lions who roared forth with a beautifully organized salute to our Independence? What a shame that your children and mine should grow up without experiencing the feeling of emotion that a final "Old Glory" display would bring. The aerial bomb salutes and a brass band "National Anthem" did something to impress once again each year man's everlasting struggle for independence.

State Bank of Antioch

JUNE 27, 1963

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Saver:

The State Bank of Antioch provides you with more than maximum interest on your savings deposits.

Since 1894, every day except Wednesday and Sunday, hundreds of "family" customers come into the State Bank of Antioch. Most of them have growing savings accounts. But it's not just the guaranteed interest on their money that brings them here. They're secure in the knowledge that they have the ideal combination of safety and availability so essential to building a family's cash reserve.

They come for many reasons. It may be to open a checking account, to give a further boost to a vacation account almost ready to use, to finance their current money problem with a low-cost personal loan . . . or to obtain a convenient bank money order. They come for counsel and advice from officers schooled in family and business money matters. The Christmas Savings Window may be on their list of calls, or their safe deposit box. They may just drop in to meet friends.

Why not bring your family in for a visit soon and open a State Bank Savings Account.

Freedom is individual — it comes first in one's own heart through divine Love, and then, reaching out, blesses even his enemies.

By Pearl Kapell

Scientists are constantly discovering amazing facts. Some of the most fascinating, which could open the door to a whole dreamworld of fanciful possibilities, have been discovered by men working with RNA.

RNA, it seems, is ribonucleic acid. And experiments indicate that it can have much to do with memory.

One experiment dealt with worms who were conditioned to respond by electric shocks. The trained worms were then ground up and fed to other worms, who exhibited the same responses without previous conditioning.

It would be indecent and uncivilized, of course, to suggest that a slice of Einstein, or some other great mind, could make a great mathematician of a woman who can't balance her checkbook. And exactly how RNA works is still a great deal of mystery. But undoubtedly work will go on. Perhaps, some day, you'll be able to purchase a capsule of RNA which contains the memory of some subject you wish to specialize in. Perhaps scientists will perfect method of extracting RNA regularly from people who learn easily. And a new profession will open up. Some people may become learners, while the rest of us purchase a few capsules, take them, and become experts in any specific line.

And they say cars have made us lazy?

By far the most common cause of constipation after the first year is the child's resistance to coercion in bowel and bladder training. We are just beginning to convince parents that it is no physiologic or social stigma for a child to soil and wet himself in his second year. We still have to convince many parents that the normal method of teaching control is to get the child to associate the sensation of an impending bowel movement with the toilet seat.

not until the beginning of neuro-muscular control, which is said usually to occur between 12 and 18 months of age, does the baby recognize this sensation. Elimination is almost always an unconscious act up to a year and may be so up to the age of 30 months.

Taking the child from his play during this period and confining him to an uncomfortable and insecure toilet seat can have no meaning to him except to create a feeling of unjustified interference with his normal activities. When in time he learns to sense an impending bowel movement, he reacts negatively to the impulse and holds back until he has been taken from the seat.

It is this holding back that deadens the normal reflex to peristalsis, the muscular contractions and dilations of the lower bowel. The feces is thus retained in the lower bowel where it rapidly loses its fluid content, causing constipation and the problems accompanying it.

Anxious parents of constipated children should seek the guidance of their physician to alleviate their fears.

Parents who clearly understand the normal limits and variation of the process of elimination are often better able to handle their child's toilet training. Often this is the only treatment necessary.

Constipation of dietary origin is less common in childhood than in infancy. By the age of one year, the child has usually made an adjustment between intake and elimination. If constipation does occur and regulation of the diet becomes necessary, the advice of a physician should be sought.

The officers club will hold their annual picnic Wednesday, July 10, at 12:30 noon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Botts. Each member is to bring a dish to pass, dessert will be furnished by the hostess and co-hostess, Mrs. Dorothy Smith.

Ralph T. Moore writes in the Oregon Voter: "As American industry girds its loins for a desperate struggle for survival in competition with Europe's Common Market, its chief problem will be the eradication of the good enough philosophy that had prevailed during the past half-century. This is an insidious doctrine that has enervated American effort in every shop and factory, every office and personal service, throughout our land."

to appear. Mother can start cleaning baby's mouth with a soft piece of gauze or a Q-tip right after each feeding as soon as baby is on semisolid or chewing food. "Toothbrush training" may begin as soon as the child will accept the brush. A young child who has the opportunity to see other members of the family use a tooth brush will "ask" for one. The child should be encouraged to "use" the brush after each meal, but mother should continue to supervise the brushing, and continue to clean food debris from all surfaces of all teeth until the child is able to brush correctly, as dentist teaches the child.

Correct eating habits and keeping the teeth clean are effective home-care weapons against tooth decay. Preventive dentistry should be started when a child is still young. If a child's teeth are properly cared for, a strong foundation is laid for minimizing dental troubles in later years. Children's teeth are meant to last a lifetime. With the right care, they can.

Shortly after birth, the enamel of baby's first permanent teeth start to form in his jaw. These particular teeth are sometimes called "six-year molars" because they appear at about the age of six. They do not replace any primary teeth but come in just behind them.

The earliest teeth to appear in baby's mouth are the four primary central incisors. These are located in the front of the mouth, two upper and two lower. They appear approximately between six and eight months of age. The lower teeth usually will appear first.

Between seven and 11 months of age, four more teeth, upper and lower, will appear. These are the lateral incisors at either side of the central teeth. Between 12 and 16 months of age, the back teeth or first primary molars will appear. Then, the cusps will appear to fill in the space between. At about the age of 24 months, the second primary molars will appear.

A broad parking area will provide space for all applicants to park just a few steps from the station.

Additional vehicular space will make it possible to give a portion of the road test on an off-street area.

From 1913 To 1963 50 Years of Growth

Throughout the centuries fire has been man's greatest aid and comfort and his most vicious enemy. The fire that warmed his hearth and cooked his food could turn in one unguarded moment into a raging fire that destroyed that home and took the lives of his loved ones.

In early days, man was almost helpless against his friend-turned-foe. The farmer, once a fire had gone beyond the stage where a bucket of water could douse it, had to be content with salvaging livestock and equipment from his barns. He had no way of even calling on his neighbors for help until the warning sign of smoke and flame in the sky brought them to his aid.

In small villages, "bucket brigades" sprung into being to fight the spread of flames that could consume a whole community.

This was the haphazard start of the Antioch Fire Department. In 1890, most of the homes and business places were built of wood. Here and there a brick or stone building, or one with a side-sheeting of tin, provided resistance if a fire started in nearby buildings. When the cry of "Fire" was heard, men grabbed buckets and ran to join the line forming between the nearest well or cistern and the burning building. The buckets were passed from hand to hand and the water tossed on the flames. Usually the burning building was a lost cause, and the men concentrated on "wetting down" surrounding buildings to try to halt the spread of the flames. Without the aid of an efficient telephone service and motorized equipment, there was little more people could do.

Antioch's first equipment consisted of a Fire-bell, set atop a windmill tower behind Williams' Department Store. In shed nearby was a hand pump and hose reel and hose on two wheels, and several buckets. Men provided the power to pull this piece of equipment to fires. Once there, the hose was dropped in a well or cistern (if there was one) and four to six men would start pumping, forcing water out of the hose to spray on the fire. This was called "drafting water." When one crew tired of pumping, another took over. Not enough pressure could be raised to effectively fight the flames, and usually, once the fire gained a start, the building burned down.

For many years, Henry G. Billett was the Village Fire Marshal. The rest of the fire department consisted of every able-bodied man in the community who was on hand.

The names of village board members of that time is engraved on the old Fire Bell, now mounted on a platform near the Fire Station. L. M. Haynes, A. G. Watson and Frank Drom are the names of those early board members.

Two disastrous fires, in 1903 and 1904, roused the public to take action to see what could be done to fight the menace.

The 1903 fire demolished the business section on the east side of Main St., north of the Herman saloon. Side of the Herman building was of tin, and the fire was stopped there.

In 1904, the buildings south of the Herman saloon burned. Now the people of Antioch started to seriously consider steps to install fire protection.

By 1907, Antioch was installing water mains, drilling a well and building a tank-type water tower, with hydrants installed in the business section, and parts of the residential section.

Finally, in the spring of 1913, a group of men gathered to organize a Fire Department. Twenty-eight men were at that meeting, and signed the minute books as charter members:

Henry G. Billett, William Beller, A. V. Chinn, Wm. J. Christian, George Conrade, William H. Davis, Benjamin Drury, William Dupre, Ralph Fields, Joseph Fillweber, Harold Fillweber, George Garland, Ed. S. Garrett, Percy O. Hawkins, John L. Horan, Earl Horton, Ernest Horton, Claire Kelly, Chase McGuire, F. S. Morrell, Bertrand H. Overton, Frank Palmer, Arthur Rosenfeld, Ernest L. Simons, R. S. Thompson, Wm. R. Van Patten, William Volkman and Herman A. Winken.

Of the twenty-eight charter members, nine are still living: William H. Davis, William Dupre, Ralph Fields, Harold Fillweber, Percy O. Hawkins, John L. Horan, Earl Horton, Claire Kelly, and Wm. R. Van Patten.

That first meeting was held in the C. A. Powles building on Lake St., where the State Bank was then located. The place is now occupied by the One-Hour Martiniating. Henry G. Billett was reportedly the moving spirit in those early days of the Antioch Fire Department.

Still living in Antioch are charter members Harold Fillweber, Earl Horton, John Horan and Ralph Fields. Fields moved to Waukegan shortly after the fire department was organized but moved back to Antioch about 20 years ago.

Later the fire department moved its headquarters to the J. J. Morley building on Main St., where Ken's Outlet Store is located. The fire bell had been moved from its location behind Williams' Store to the headquarters on Lake St. Now it was moved to the new headquarters on Main St.

All those outside the village now had the protection of the fire department. Fire calls outside the village were paid for by this district, at an hourly rate to each firemen. The village paid the fire department for calls within the village. This method is still in practice. The Fire Protection District could now levy a tax to help support the department.

One of the biggest fires in those days, says Earl Horton, who spent 12 years in the department, was when the James building burned. This was where the Masonic Temple is now located.

William Volkman was assistant marshal in the first years of the department, R. Stanley Thompson was secretary and Ernest Horton treas-

By March 24, 1914, a set of by-laws was drawn up and accepted.

For the first two years, the fire department worked hard to raise money for more equipment, in addition to fighting fires. Every money-making affair popular to the times was promoted—dances, picnics, band concerts, dinners, all helped to put money into the treasury. The firemen's dances were held in the old Opera House, above the present First National Bank. Dinner was served downstairs. Shows were held, too, featuring professional vaudeville and home talent.

In January of 1915, the department decided to make some changes in organization. J. R. Van Patten was elected president; Arthur Rosenfeld, vice president; Edward S. Garrett, secretary and Ernest Horton, treasurer.

By May of 1923, the first motorized fire truck was purchased and the new village hall was erected.

With the new truck, Antioch was called on to answer fire calls from Lake Villa, Ill., and Salem, Ill. Before long, the Antioch Fire Department helped these towns to get their own fire departments organized.

Being a resort region, Antioch often had the benefit of advice and news of up-to-date methods from Chicago firemen out on vacation. This probably helped to promote the progressive spirit of the Antioch Fire Department.

In October of 1929, thirty of Antioch's firemen were placed in full uniform.

In November of 1931, a meeting was called at the Antioch Fire Department for the purpose of organizing a County group. Representatives were present from Fox Lake, Round Lake, Grayslake and Lake Villa in addition to Antioch. Within a year the county was organized, with 15 volunteer fire departments, five paid departments and Great Lakes and Fort Sheridan units. The group held monthly meetings to exchange information on improved methods of protecting the life and property of Lake County residents from fire.

During the summer of 1933, Antioch assisted in getting the Lake Villa District organized.

It was about this time that the Rescue Squad unit of the Fire Department received permission to function as a separate unit. The Fire Department had always had a group of men who did Rescue Squad work, mostly aiding drowning victims. With new equipment being constantly introduced, that widened the field of this work, some of the men went to the Kenosha Rescue Squad and studied up-to-date methods of aiding the sick and injured in emergencies. From this beginning sprang Antioch's present well-known Rescue Squad.

Throughout the years it was a continuous struggle for the Fire Department to raise money to finance improvements. In 1934, a Fire Protection District was set up, including the township outside the village. Clarence Crowley became the president of this District, and has held that office to the present day. With Mr. Crowley, George White and Ernest L. Simons served as trustees, in charge of the district outside the village limits.

The firemen of those early days had to make do with what facilities they had, helped by all who could lend a hand. Farmers often hauled in milk cans full of water to help when there was a fire. The tools used by threshing machines were often filled with water to provide a source of water for the fire-fighters.

One of the biggest fires in those days, says Earl Horton, who spent 12 years in the department, was when the James building burned. This was where the Masonic Temple is now located.

The equipment and building of Antioch's Fire Department today is rated with the best, says Fire Chief Edgar Simonsen. They represent an investment of $225,000. It costs about $800 a month to support the department.

Driver Killed In Crash At Wilmot Race Track

Allen Cummings, 29 year old super modified stock car driver from Kenosha, Wis., died from injuries received in the 15 lap semi-feature race at the Kenosha County Speedway in Wilmot on Saturday night.

Cummings lost control of his car as he went into the lower turn. His car rolled over and then was struck by a car driven by Bob Layland of Elgin, Ill.

Due to the gasoline spilled from the car it was impossible to use torches to free him from the car and the track safety crewmen cut the top of the car open to lift him out.

His wife was in the grandstand watching the races and accompanied the ambulance to the Burlington Memorial Hospital in Burlington, where he was pronounced dead on arrival. This marked the first fatality since the track started racing in July 1952.

At the time of the accident, Kura Sorenson of Racine was leading the race and on the restart he was able to stay in the lead but was hard pressed by Glen Eichman of Waukegan who ran second up until the 13th lap when he spun out, letting Steve Stevens of Druse Lake, Dick Vanderspool of Grayslake, and Dick Bentley of Milwaukee get by. Eichman let his car spin all the way around and was able to continue and cross the finish line in fifth position.

The heat races were thrillers all the way through, as Sorenson won the first and Eichman the second 10 lap race. In the third race Stevens shot out into the lead from the pole spot but Jim Sullivan of Antioch got thru the traffic and closed the gap to a car length from his seventh starting spot by the 8th lap. Several times he got up along side of Stevens but couldn't get in front on the straightaways. Bay Darnell of Deerfield was third.

The fourth ten lap race saw Bill Strom of Milwaukee get by Jack Radke of Salem and Chuck Uttech of Kenosha to come home the winner ahead of Stealing Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee and Jim Bozeman of Waukegan.

The twenty-five lap feature had trouble getting started as two restarts were necessary before a full lap was run. The first of these tangles took Bay Darnell and Rodger Otto out and they were unable to make a re-start.

Gordy Gorman took the lead and was able to stay ahead of Jim Sullivan throughout the distance, although Sullivan, the Antioch Irishman, was breathing down his neck for the last 20 laps. The fast qualifiers and favorites for this race started in the back and had a tough time working their way around George Uttech of Kenosha and Ron Larson of Racine.

Stillman finally made it and went all out to get by Ed Irving of Waukegan but on the next lap Irving had taken back over in third place and carried it to the checkered flag.

The win for Gorman was his first of the year but he had been showing winning form in earlier races. He set a new track record in a time of 7:53.04 and averaged 82.91 miles per hour.

The spectator car drivers mixed it up equally well as they had their action in the first 10 lap race when John Anderson of Lake Villa and Ken Lishamer of Jonesboro got together going into the lower turn with Ken winding up in a series of rolls over the fence. He had a small cut on the forearm but did not require hospital attention.

Rodger Hagle fought hard and finally took the lead in the second race but had to pull in when his engine went sour. The win then went to Harold Outech of Kenosha. Mike Wolf was the first winner.

Dick Aisen of McHenry was feature race winner and also had fast time.

Youth is that period of life when you can run a mile on the track but need a car to go two blocks to the drug store.

Stanley's Resort has been weighing in some good size fish, including largemouths. There's real good bluegill fishing there. Weed beds and that there kinda stuff.

Theme song for the Savings and Loan—Alone (A loan) at last.

Little Silver Lake, just east of town on Depot street, is going great guns on northerns, bass and bluegills. A guy named Ed Smith from Zion brought in a string of 40 bluegills and 5 black bass. The vine-grape has it Bruce Muench was fishing there Tuesday. He ought to know.

Ernie DiLabio (where've you been lately, Ern?) reports terrific bluegill fishing on E. Loon. And here's a tip for you bass fishers. With the lakes so thick with algae, they're down on the bottom and one sure lure is a lead-headed jig, with white and red bucktail, weedless hook and a six inch black eel pork rind, cast out, allowed to sink and reeled in very slowly. When you get a strike give him time enough to get that long piece of pork down his gullet before you set the hook. Leave a few for seed.

YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE DONE IT ED!—they were at it again Monday, and this time Sorenson got his lumps, but like real good—by five strokes, in spite of his usual 93. The villain was none other than genial Walt Mueller. This explains the sheepish look on Ed's face these last couple of days.

Don't smoke in bed—the ashes that fall to the floor may well be your own.

Speaking of golf, better polish up your game for the big wingding on October 2th. That's the day the Antioch Township Republican Men's (and Women's) Club are gonna pay honor to Chuck Larson, our own Sheriff of this here now county, at George Diamond's Country Club out on Grass Lake Road. There'll be golf all day followed by a dinner party at 8. Lots of prizes for the golfers and fun for everyone. (Are you coming, Annie honey?)

BOATING WITH BOWMAN

BOATS DON'T HAVE BRAKES

By Hank Bowman
(Courtesy Sequoit Harbor)

One of my favorite marine pictures is a British tramp freighter crashing into a pier. The steel plates of the ship's bow are torn open and pier timbers reduced to kindling. A loading crane is toppling into the water and a seaman, heaving a line, has been hurled into mid-air. On one wing of the bridge a bewildered little character in captain's garb is shown wringing his hands in despair, stating, "Dearie me, I'd give at least two bob had this not happened."

More recently on Lake Austin, Tex., a show-off boat operator would have known the same amount or more to have had his boat back in deep water again, undamaged, after he had misjudged his clearance and sent his boat, with engine running full-bore, twenty yards onto dry land!

Though testing boats of all sorts is a part of my profession, I approach any landing with extreme caution and at a conservative pace. I learned long ago that throttles can jam, gear shifts or steering fail to function and engines stall.

Skillful boat handlers take advantage of natural elements that play in their favor. Whenever possible, as you make an approach for a landing, head the bow of your boat into the wind or current, whichever has the greatest braking effect on your hull. Always have an escape route in mind. Head toward a mooring or a slip at an idle throttle setting and in such a manner that, should you underestimate your boat's speed and realize at the last minute that it has too much headway to stop naturally or with the braking effect of your reverse gear, you can circle and make another attempt.

An owner changing from small to larger power may find it advisable to check out the difference in performance of his new, more powerful boat before putting in for a first docking try.

Different boats of varying weight and design drift at different speeds once their power has been shut off. Boats don't have brakes.

In the 5th Hensley's pitcher Ron Well opened with a double to right center and took 3rd after the catch by Mike Cirone on George Roche's long fly out. Denny Remus then hit a slow roller to 3rd scoring Well with the tying run.

In the 6th inning, Hensley Motors scored the run which won the game.

Jim Hofer led off with a single to right, Guy Flaschner singled to left, sending Jim Hofer to 2nd. Denny Flaschner hit an infield shot to Ken Kube at 3rd who tagged the base forcing out Hofer. Joe Flaschner then grounded to the second baseman, Dick Crifasi, who tried to nail Denny Flaschner at 2nd but missed the tag to fill the bases.

Bob Hofer then hit a slow roller in the infield scoring Guy Flaschner with the lead and winning run.

Golfview's other hits, besides Ken Kube's triple, was a single by Ken Dodge in the 2nd inning, a single by Manager Fred Dodge in the 3rd, and a single by the losing pitcher, Hadji Snarski, in the 5th.

Hensley Motors had a total of 8 hits; 2 singles by Ray Nosko and Jim Hofer; 1 hit by Guy and Denny Flaschner, and doubles by Ronnie Weil and Joe Flaschner.

The Hensley team will miss the services of Guy and Joe Flaschner for two weeks as they go to camp. Manager Denny Flaschner will fill the gap with George Pahlke at short and Bernie Gunty in the outfield.

Monday night's game saw Gibbs and Jensen outlast Lyons Ryan Ford 9 to 6 to lose by an 8 to 4 score. Seven errors and 6 unearned runs proved costly as Lyons-Ryan won their second game of the season.

Greg Bush had a single and a double for the winners, along with Jim Sheehan's triple, Rich Drzewski's single, Russ Cote's double and Jack Thompson's single.

Gibbs and Jensen collected nine hits in suffering their first setback under the management of Pete Matteoni.

John Bishop, the league's leading pitcher of a few years back, had two hits. Sid Parker, Denny Swanson, Stormy O'Berg, Howie Larson and Ed Ring had 1 each.

Rich Pahlke and Rudy Selak belted 2 baggers.

Wednesday night's game between Pine Oaks and Gibbs and Jensen was washed out and will be played at a later date.

Individual leaders in the league are as follows:

Hitting, based on 10 bats or more:

Jim Hofer, Hensley 545

George Gaertner, Pine Oaks 545

Rich Weir, Pine Oaks 500

Rich Drzewski, Lyons-Ryan 500

Daryl Sullivan, Pine Oaks 4
